The Call of Leaders

Recently, I went to Leadership Belleville's opening retreat. During the two-day event, they spoke about types of leadership and asked us to reflect upon our own leadership styles.

One universal value of leadership they mentioned was that a leader brings out the strengths in each person. As a leader, we are called to bring out the best in each person who works with and for us. While each of us have growing edges (of course), each of us have gifts. Our jobs as leaders are to ensure that gifts are being utilized to the best of their ability as well as team ourselves and others up with people whose strengths are different than our own.

Since starting at this church and especially since my retreat, I've been reflecting upon my own leadership style. As a collaborative leader, I appreciate incorporating others' ideas and make unilateral decisions only sparingly. While tough and unpopular decisions need to be made occasionally, the hope is that all decisions are made for the greater good of the people of this congregation and our surrounding community.

I also look towards scripture to guide my decisions as a leader. Jesus was a leader who was full of grace for those who wanted to grow and collaborate as a team. Even when Peter denied his association with him, Jesus extended mercy and love to a grief-stricken Peter. Through this grace-filled act, Peter becomes the leader God has called him to be.

When God calls Joshua to fill the leadership role of Moses, God ensures Joshua this: "As I was with Moses, so I will be with you; I will not fail you or forsake you. Be strong and courageous..." (Joshua 1:5-6). As God was with pastoral leaders of every time and space, God is with me. As God was with all lay leaders in this congregation, God is with you.

Have you reflected upon your own leadership styles and how you influence others? With strength and courage, let us love one another boldly and lift up our siblings in the faith!

Blessings,

Pastor Michelle

From the President's corner...

Once again, we have had a busy, exciting month at St. Paul. Sometimes I wonder how the building survives! Early in the month, our walls and halls once again were alive with the sound of little voices, squeals with delight and a few tears as little ones left the comfort of Mommy and Daddy and came to their first day of Mother's Day Out! How very blessed we are here to have such a fantastic program to call our own!! We should never take this wonderful program for granted. Those little sweethearts can make a gloomy day sunny for everyone. Jenna Smith and her amazing group of teachers and helpers add a spark of life and love to our building. And in addition, the kids have a spectacular time! Last week the fire department came and thrilled the little folks – you know about kids and fire trucks!! If you are ever feeling a bit down or wondering what its all about, stop by the church on a weekday between 9:40 and 1pm and just soak it all in. You will be revived – I guarantee it!

Pastor Michelle began holding informal conversations with any of us who would like to attend. They are taking place in a variety of locations – Balance Coffee and Tea, The Abbey, 4204 Main Street Brewing Company, etc. They are at different times of day and evening, so you should be able to find a time that works for you. I personally made the one at Balance Coffee and Tea and I can say I totally enjoyed the evening of just conversation. No commitments, no reservations needed, just show up. Give it a try. You will not be disappointed.

The sanctuary and our magnificent Steinway Grand Piano have also been getting a work out. Of course, this is the beginning of the concert season, so this is just a warm up. The Belleville Philharmonic loves our piano and has once again scheduled a series of piano concerts to take advantage of that beautiful instrument. Then on Sunday the 23rd, we kicked off our Fine Arts Series for 2018/2019 with the fantastic pianist Huntley Brown. Any of you who attended church on that Sunday morning can attest to his incredible talent. What a blessing! He was quite impressed with our new piano – it wasn't here the last time he played for a Fine Arts Concert. He told Sandy Wagner he would be glad to come here anytime just for the pleasure of playing that wonderful piano. So be proud people! We have an incredible Schantz Organ and Steinway Piano.

As long as I'm talking about the Sanctuary, I want to mention the work that is going on repairing the ends of our pews. I know you all are aware that the ends of the pews are looking pretty rough. The veneer on the ends is peeling off and looks pretty bad. Our Business and Property Board, particularly Wayne Caughman and Laura Strohm-Armstrong have spent a LOT of hours working with craftsmen on the best way to repair them in such a way that it will last. They have found a great solution and the work has officially begun. It cost about $350 to fix each end. They have enough in the budget to finish the ends of 22 pews. They will work on the center aisle ends first. You all know that a lot of folks have their own favorite pew – it's a running joke in most churches that you know who is at church by looking for them in "their pews". Well, here is your opportunity to upgrade "Your Pew"! Wayne and his crew would be glad to have your assistance in raising the money to do ALL of the pew ends!!! So, if you're so inclined, see Wayne, Laura, Lou Ryseff or any staff member about making a donation for your favorite pew.

While many of us were at the Cardinal Ballgame on Saturday the 22nd trying to decide if it was Fall or Summer, (we had both), the youth were holding a car wash and assisting at Crafty Mania. For those who aren't aware, Crafty Mania is a really big deal for a lot of ladies who love to get together and do their crafts for a day. They chat, compare notes and techniques and all the things crafters love to do. We owe a debt of gratitude to Rick and Diana Haar for providing this wonderful program twice a year. The ladies who come are primarily not St. Paul church members. It is a great opportunity to show off our church and share our hospitality. In addition to the car wash, the youth helped the ladies get their gear into the church and assisted with the meals.

We are in the beginning of a very busy time at St. Paul. Well, it is always busy at St. Paul, but the fall and winter are especially busy. The boards and groups planning events can always use help. If you would like to be more involved in your church, there are a lot of ways to do it. Just ask one of us. We are blessed with a loving, positive environment here and we want to share it with all. See you in church!

Blessings,
Mimi Llamas, President St. Paul UCC Church Council

Dear Friends in Christ,

Through generous donations from people like you, UCC Disaster Ministries is responding to the needs of people affected by 2018 hurricanes both within the United States and around the world. Donate now to deepen the impact of our immediate response and long-term recovery work.

Last week Hurricane Florence roared ashore in the US Carolinas. Although downgraded from a hurricane to a tropical storm, communities are experiencing mass flooding. The large scope of devastation is just beginning to be known. The UCC is responding.

Last week Super Typhoon Mangkhut (AKA as Ompong) created devastation in the Philip-pines, and also wreaked havoc in Hong Kong, China and other parts of Asia. Landslides, wind, and rain have claimed many lives, while others are missing. The UCC is responding.

More storms are churning. Stay up-to-date on the UCC response.

Your donation helps the UCC respond quickly to immediate disaster and long-term recovery needs. Our actions focus on the most vulnerable by addressing injustice, responding to the whole community, and filling gaps in service.

One hundred percent of UCC disaster relief funds are used for direct service to individuals and communities, and rehabilitation programming.
