St. Paul Fine Arts Concert Arianna String Quartet

April 7th 3:00 PM

The Arianna String Quartet is the quartet-in-residence at the University of Missouri, St. Louis. They will be performing Haydn's The Seven Last Words of Christ on the Cross. Written for the Cathedral in Cadiz, Spain in 1784, this extended work portrays the suffering of Christ on the cross.

From the President's corner...

Spring has arrived!!! I took the cover off of my deck furniture, so it is officially Spring! And with Spring comes new beginnings. Fresh grass showing up, new little flowers popping their heads up, rabbits checking out the new vegetation. Dandelions and weeds too, but that's ok. That's part of it. I believe Spring is God's way of giving us another chance to get it right. So, let's get at it!!!

In March, we dove right in to the Lenten Season. We ate pancakes and sausage and feasted on King Cake on Shrove Tuesday. Thank you to Mingles and Singles for the great meal. It was great to see that kitchen alive with excitement. In fact, we had more cooks than customers for a while. But that didn't last long! It was a great evening. The next day, Ash Wednesday, we officially began the season with 2 services. Pastor Michelle tried a new twist this year with drive up ashes. Next year we will advertise it more so she gets more folks stopping by. Starting the following Wednesday, we began the first of a series of 5 Wednesday Lenten noon services followed by a light lunch. If you can possibly fit one in to your day, give it a try. It is a wonderful service. We have been experiencing different ways to pray. By speaking, writing and moving. The next 2 weeks will be 2 different activities, all involved with ways to pray. It has been a great experience. There is a bit of music and a message. Then lunch. Each week lunch is sponsored by a different group. They have all been good of course – we can cook here at St. Paul!!! On March 16th the Mingles and Singles group celebrated St. Patrick's Day at the home of Judy Kock. Lots of "green food". And lots of fun and friendship. The Women's Guild, Fireside and the Shufflers all got together for their meetings as well and enjoyed their special relationships and plans for projects. The Women's Guild is preparing for their April Rummage Sale. Those ladies work like a bunch of teenagers!!! And their earnings from the sale go right back to the church. That's what we do here – work for the good of our Church.

We are very excited to begin a new and important project. Heritage Hall has needed to have its update and renovations completed for a long time. It was a dream of Alice Jerome, our wonderful Archivist; and now Alice is gone. But the plan isn't and its time to get the plan out, dust it off, look at it to see if it needs updating again or what, and get at it!! Business and Property has offered to oversee the project. There will be a meeting of the stakeholders in such a plan on March 28. Business and Property, Heritage Hall Committee, Archives, and representatives from Fine Arts will meet and discuss the best way to proceed. As time goes on, other groups will need to offer input as well. This is an exciting project!!! Personally, I can't wait to see what they come up with. We have talent here at St. Paul from many sources to get a lot of the work done in-house. Other things will need to be contracted out. That's where Business and Property expertise will be invaluable. During the time of renovation, HH will be off limits to all of us. Any and all activities in there will be moved to different locations or put on hold for the time being. That's always a pain in the tush, but it's a necessity to accomplish what needs to be done. I have absolutely no doubt that it will be will worth it.

So, hang on; April will be a busy time! We have a lot of exciting plans for the future and we are chomping at the bit to get going. And the best part of the season, Easter week is approaching. We will celebrate Maundy Thursday, Good Friday, with 2 services, our annual Bunny Breakfast, and of course, Easter. A new beginning! A new chance to make it better, to get it right! Just like God planned for us.

Blessings,
Mimi Llamas, Church Council President

When Grain of Wheat Falls

“Very truly, I tell you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains just a single grain; but if it dies, it bears much fruit.” – John 12:24

I fiercely hold onto “grains of wheat.” I’m too afraid to experience what happens if I throw away the wrong piece of paper or a special item in my home. Knowing how humans work, I’m sure I’m not the only one who feels like this!

Having a yearly Holy Week nudges me to look examine what it means to “lose” as well as all perspectives of the life, death, and resurrection story of Jesus. How was Jesus’ message one that brought hope to the masses and threatened the powers-that-be? How did they recognize Jesus as “the Christ?” How can I become more courageous like Jesus? What in my life can shed to become more like Jesus, and how will shedding the item help me grow with God and closer to my neighbor?

The story of Holy Week encourages us to let go of our own “wheat” and gives us the lens to see miracles in the events that follow. Is the old grain of wheat a painful experience? Is it our own bias? It is an antique in our own home? Is it a program at the church?

Granted, there is grief when we allow something to change. With change comes small – or large – deaths. There’s no way around it: all grief gives us some form of discomfort. I believe that no matter our age, we like to hold onto our own “grains of wheat” as long as possible. Whether we are a twenty-something, a middle-aged person, or someone past retirement, change is beyond uncomfortable. Even we younger people wince when we see that a social media app has changed. And we fret at the possibility of a change in any of our institutions.

Easter, resurrection, and this season of newness begs us to ask this: what miracles do we believe could happen if we allow our “grain of wheat” to fall to the ground? This is when we get to start dreaming, friends. We now give permission to our hand which has grasped the wheat to embrace or create something new.

The parable of the grain of wheat is a lectionary text for Holy Week. This is a reminder that something new happened after Jesus’ horrific, painful death. This story treasures the newness that happens when we become open to something after a door has closed.

Based on a talk that I heard by theologians Marcus Borg and John Dominic Crossan, I remember that we wouldn’t have known about Jesus without the story of the Resurrection and Easter. And we wouldn’t have Easter and Resurrection without Jesus’ Good Friday death. This is not to say that Jesus’ death was joyful, but that something blossomed after the ordeal. Without all of this, we would not have learned the value of new life after loss or resilience after trauma. Likewise, without Holy Week, we wouldn’t have this picture illustrating the value of hope in the face of grief and anguish.

May Easter transform us into a hope-filled people. May this parable of the wheat encourage us to be people who give ourselves permission to release. May we fill our lives with healing, excitement, and joyous anticipation as we celebrate this season of Easter and beyond!

Blessings,
Pastor Michelle

Operation Shimmer

Have you ever marveled at the sun across the lake at DuBois Center? You're not the only one. Whether from a canoe, pontoon, bridge or beach, you can't help but appreciate the shimmer that comes across the lake from sunrise to sunset. In many ways, the lake is the heart of our camp. It supports camp activities, as well as wildlife and plants. Stand still and listen to the water lap, and feel the pulse of the camp. Just as human hearts sometimes need a little extra care, our lake needs some extra care right now, with some pressing improvements. The spillway pipe has outlived its lifespan. Temporary repairs bought time, but some Muskrat Love (for those of you old enough to remember the song) has hastened the need to make a major repair before summer camp this year. This means cutting the dam, replacing the pipe, rebuilding the dirt, and resurfacing the road. The only week out of the year when this is logically feasible is Holy Week, when there are no groups in camp. There's one other improvement needing to happen before summer, and that's air conditioning in Oak Lodge. Can we get an Amen? The shimmer of the lake in late July would look so much prettier if we all were shimmering a little less in the summer heat. It also will make the camp more attractive and accessible for campers and guests. Some dedicated AC funds are waiting to be used, and they will cover a portion of the cost. So welcome to Operation Shimmer. These expenses are larger than our typical improvement, and they need to happen over the course of the next four months. Based on estimates for both projects, our goal is $60,000, with $10,000 already received. The first money in goes to repair the spillway so the work can happen in April. Air conditioning will go in second, but still before camp fills in June. It's a tall order in a short time, but these projects require immediate attention. DuBois Center has tackled sudden expenses in the past with support from across the Conference. This time is no different. We need your donations, your Lenten fundraisers, your popup yard sales and trivia nights to meet the $60,000 goal by the end of May. These repairs just can't wait. Help us keep our aquatic heart healthy and keep the shimmer on the lake. Donations can be sent to either address on the back, designated for Operation Shimmer. Thank you.
