Happy New Year, St. Paul!

The final week of the year is so full of celebrations, before we can turn around, the new year is upon us. The twelve days of Christmas culminate with Epiphany on January 5 or 6, depending on how you count. This season that precedes Lent (which will be here before we know it), invites us to realize exactly what it means that Jesus came into the world at Christmas and grew in wisdom prior to beginning his ministry to the people. This season allows us to again ponder some essential questions of our faith. What does it mean that Jesus came into the world? What does it mean for us to be followers of his Way?

A poem that was later set to music reminds us that after the hustle and bustle of Christmas is over, the work of Christmas is just beginning. The song goes like this:

I am the Light of the World

You people come and follow me.

If you follow and love, You'll learn the mystery

Of what you were meant to do and be.

When the song of the angels is stilled.

When the star in the sky is gone.

When the kings and the shepherds have found their way home.

The work of Christmas is begun!

To find the lost and lonely one,

To heal that broken soul with love,

To feed the hungry children with warmth and good food,

To feel the earth below the sky above!

To free the prisoner from his chains,

To make the powerful care,

To rebuild the nations with strength and goodwill,

To call people your siblings everywhere.

To bring hope to every task you do,

To dance at a baby's new birth,

To make music in an old person's heart,

And sing to the colors of the earth!

Well, friends, we have work to do. What a blessing, though, to be doing it together. As we enter into 2026, remember that all the celebrations should enliven and color our individual daily living, but just as importantly, our covenantal life together, building a more blessed community of faith. Let's roll up our sleeves and do the work of Christmas—together.

Peace and blessings!
